The undersigned begs to inform the highly respected community of this city and the country, that he has establish ed an

INK MANUFACTORY.

No. 50, Calle 25 de Mayo.

And is prepared to sell no good Ink, as any made in any part. of the globe, and warranted to retain its beautiful Jet Black colour which it has at the moment when used, at 50 p. % less than the same can be bought at any other house.

People under the impression, that they pay their $30 cnpc. for a quart bottle of English Ink, can have the same proved, that most of the Ink sold for English, is made in this country, and imposed upon the public as such; But I am not ashamed to put my own Name on the labels, being fully convinced that my Ink is of a much superior quality, and possesses more virtues than most of the Inks.

I.—It is of a very rich black at the moment when used.

II.—Retains its color.

III.—Runs freely off the pen.

IV.—A preserver of the eyes to those, who have much to write at night because they need not to force their eyesight, to see what they have written.

For the reasons explained, I hope that my prejudice generally entertained against Ink manufacture will be laid aside, and all I ask is, to try the same which will be a benefit to the buyer, and to the country, in assisting Home Industry.

N. B.—Orders left at the office will be punctually attended to and deliver ed free of any charges.

THE STANDARD.

"All false assertion, all evil and unclean dicere."—Cicero.

FRIDAY, MAY 1, 1868.

OUR SECOND ANNIVERSARY.

The STANDARD is two years old to-day, and, we flatter ourselves, "big for its age": its infancy has been eventful, and it has outlived the expectations of those who frowned upon its cradle. Its twin-brother (La Revista) has disappeared within the past year, and a new fraternity sprung up, while our growth since May 1862 has been truly prodigious. The interval has not been uniformly tranquil, and local circumstances that troubles and difficulties are peculiarly favorable to journals, since our circulation has more than doubled; Dr. Acosta, Mr. Segovia, D. J. Lassaigue, and the ex-sub minister of the Interior, notwithstanding.

Our paper is no longer the Benjamin of the literary tribes. It has but two seniors, in the country and is surpassed only by two in popularity. There is one remarkable feature: it is the only journal which has not changed hands since May 1861. Hence there has been a steady line of policy preserved throughout, while our more ambitious colleagues have veered about like a weathercock, to suit their political aspirations changing editor almost with the variations of the Moon. The STANDARD has but another advantage; whereas all native papers are used as stepping-stones to parliamentary preferment or official promotion, such ambition is at once beyond our reach and repugnant to our Republican notions. The legislative mission or consular diplomo does not haunt our slumbers, and hence we never prostitute our mission to side-long purposes.

Our critics assert, with some truth, that our insetting rice is unpetuously, but this is a small fault in a good child: it becomes a virtue when directed against abuses. Others object that we display to public view the services rendered: in this we only resemble Goldsmith's veteran, who—"Showdared the crowds that throwed how fields were won." Moreover modesty is scarcely a characteristic of our profession or nationality. Finally we are condemned for being too much allied with the native Press; but our ideas and education are so opposite that we can never be in complete harmony, and the warfare is always conducted by us in a legitimate manner.

Looking, however, at the immense progress we have made during the last year, it seems superfluous to make our apology. There are 1000 subscribers in the city and province and almost the same number of readers in Europe and the U. States. We have it on the highest authority in the country that several Argentine agents have flatteringly testified in writing that the STANDARD is doing incalculable benefit to it. Anyone, in public and monetary repute in England as well as this country, is welcome.

The past year has seen many important enterprises rationed among us, bringing English capital and English settlers to these shores. Herein is the secret of our success, for every new industry attracts crowds of our country men and every new comer will add a portion to our list. If the development of this journal follow next year in proportion with the last, our future is indeed brilliant and the STANDARD of May 1st 1869, will expand into the dimensions of a great National institution.

We beg to tender a sincere expression of thanks to those who have so liberally supported us, a salute to all our colleagues, and a promise to the public that we will continue for the coming year the same unbiassed course of manful criticism and active industry as heretofore.

OUR TRIP TO ROSARIO.

Stepping on board the fastest little steamer in the river—the Paron—we started on Friday 17th ult. at 1 A.M. under the care of Captain Henderson. The Guardia Nacional, with the President, had left two hours previously; owing to her size, she was obliged to go by the Guazu, whilst we steamed up by the short-cut called the Palmas, avoiding the sand-banks, which were distinctly marked out by the indefatigable Capt. in Bruce, who, at his own expense, placed buoys along the channel. Our passengers on board seemed more as if going to a funeral than to a fête; all kept at a distance, contemplating probably upon the future value of an Orangeboy islands, or lost in admiration of the quinces and bitter oranges which decorated the banks. Captain Henderson, who has been engaged for so many years on the river, pointed out to us the different islands which were inhabited, and the arroyos with their names. The dinner-bell rung, and we all buried down to the cabin; the Paraná breeze being a capital appetiser. Nothing could be better than the viands. Before dinner was over, we were boarded from the Campana, by Dr Costa's friends, who came for papers and letters. Our next stop was at Zarate, which is a pretty little town and rapidly improving. The new mole is so short that it is of no use whatever, and vessels are obliged to lay on; it carried out a little further, the steamer might run up alongside, and discharge her passengers, but at present it is wholly useless. We stopped only about 5 minutes at Zarate. It was night when we arrived at San Pedro, Obligado, and Los Hermanos, and just at sunrise arrived at San Nicolas.

To judge from the appearance of the place from the river, this must be a fine town, and from what the captain said, it would seem that there is more business doing here than in Rosario. The population is rapidly pushing the community, and if they had a bank and a court of justice of their own, they would be content. A few hours' sail brought us in front of La Conclusion or Las Piedras, a little town which at present possesses about 200 fine zinote houses, and a population of about 1200. A few years ago all this place was in a very prosperous condition, but latterly it has become totally deserted. Dr Lawson, we believe, has left on a fit for the future distr ct of Columbia for the republic, in case the capital should be moved out of Buenos Ayres. The next few hours will nearer than Rosario, and is pleasantly situated on the high barance overlooking the Paraná.

On the width of the river in front of Las Piedras, is something over ten miles; as far as the eye stretches, Islands and more islands. Steamers, Schooners, bend in the river and passing the mouth of an arroyo, where Urquiza's farfamed squadron debouched, we steamed up the Carcarañal, and arrived at Rosario past 9 o'clock, making the trip in a little less than 20 hours. Before going on shore, let us remark, that for speed and comfort, there is not a boat on the river like the Paron. The dinner and breakfast were all that could not be excelled, the wines were very good, and the bertie clean and well arranged. The steamer is able to anchor alongside the Mole itself, and not as at present at the port of Rosario will be better appreciated; foreign vessels of large tonnage, can by entering the Guazu, load and discharge their cargo, and provide in safer anchorage than in Buenos Ayres. The Mole, however, is in a bad state, and seems to be built on the principle of the road to many frauditures and broken legs take place. The planks are laid in a zig zag manner, and the passenger is obliged at every step to step sideways, if he is not perverted for one moment, he runs the risk of getting into about 3 feet of mud and water.

We believe, that the mole head is beyond the jurisdiction of the town councillors. Hopping from one plank to another, at the risk of breaking one's head and a carpet bag in the other, we at last jumped into Rosario, in company with Mr Lawson, the manager of the principal English bank in the town: we proceeded to the Custom-house, which we regret to say, is a disgrace to the place, and consists one more of a wooded warehouse, for Sugar and Cuña, than one of the principal public buildings of a flourishing River port town. The officers, however, were most gentlemanly, and showed us every attention. Rosario, in the direction of the English Consul's house, who resides in the very outskirts of the city. If Paul Pry was to call upon the worth British agent, who was busy sorting the letters brought by the Paron, he could not have expressed greater surprise, than to see a piece of the "Weekly Standard" subscribed his sanctum sanctorum.

Mr Hutchinson and his amiable Lady, immediately embargoed our travelling appurtenances, and during our stay in Rosario, we had the happiness of enjoying the hospitality of the latter, best of Irishmen and distinguished Consul, Mr's civil the bests of.

The Consul has returned from exploring the Gran Chaco and de r interior provinces, as agent for the Entre Empire Navigation, has his house full of all sorts of Indian curiosities: wild cotton, Guarani skulls, Santigunian peludos, Gran Chaco cats, and Mondo reptiles. The consul, having previously resided some years at Fernando Po, has also a large collection of African curiosities. We doubt if our friend Dr Burmeister, with all his fossil lore, can compete with our unpretending, but indefatigable countryman. Dr Hutchinson is a member of the principal literary societies in England and the author of several interesting works, already favorably known to the public; his work upon the industrial resources of these countries, which will shortly be published, will, we doubt not, be a most interesting book, and of the greatest importance when to the country. But we must plead guilty of digression. On Saturday we strolled through the plaza and public market, which is a credit to Rosario, the Tribunal of Commerce which is a disgrace to it; Mauá Bank, with its swing doors; cook-ait, theatre and bowling-alley—in fact everything that was to be seen in Rosario we managed to get a glimpse at. On Sunday we visited Pavon, which is a very insignificant edifice inside, but very imposing at a distance. At 11 o'clock, the Presidente came on board the Paron, with the guns, rockets, &c, and with the yards arms of the Guardia Nacional manned. The President shook hands with the members of the Municipality and foreign consuls, who awaited his arrival on the mole head. Espying a friend from town in the crowd, he stretched out his hand to Mr Wheelright's Standard, with a significant glance, as much as to say—"I am glad to see you here". Forming into line, the procession marched to the Cathedral, passed under the triumphal arch, over which floated the American, English and Argentine flags; the bands playing, and the cannon

Retiring from Business.

WILLIAM GIBSON,
49 & 51 calle Defensa

The first English draper establishment of Buenos Ayres.

William Gibson before leaving for England, takes the opportunity here to return his sincere thanks for the kind and liberal support he has received from his friends in town and camp since his commencing business in 1859 and hereby intimates that he has disposed of his business and stock to Mr. PATRICK GALBRAITH, and solicits a continuance of their patronage in favor of his successor who will in every respect continue the business in its branches upon the same principles as hereto fore, receiving regular supplies of first class goods from England, Ireland and Scotland suitable for families in town and camp. Parties who have any claims against me will present their accounts to me before I leave and I will confer a favor by an immediate settlement.

WILLIAM GIBSON.

Amber Teeth Setting.
156—Calle Cuyo—156
Lately E. Krause sets teeth by a new invention, amber, which is found superior to every other mode. It accommodates itself to the gums and palate much better than gold, which requires springs. A set of teeth in amber, after two days, serves for mastication, speaking, and lasts a life time.

My collection of artificial teeth is very fine, and cannot be distinguished from a natural set. I will also clean teeth with great care.

I have a number of instruments for extracting roots of teeth, also for stuffing decayed teeth, gold, silver, &c, which I guarantee for a number of years.
